

As a ham operator of over 19 years experience, I can now see why everyone is/or is not yelling about the code. Plus, as a disabled ham, (proudly associated with Handi-Hams) I can understand the partial reasoning regarding elimination of the code. While elimination would, in some cases let qualified operators in. It would also keep others out. I urge the FCC, therefore, NOT TO DO AWAY With the code, but to leave it to the VEC's to administer it, based on the Applicant's ability.

Respectfully Submitted,
Mike Gruteke-K3BRJ
Extra Class Licensee